There is no question whatever that Honolulu polo lovers will see today one of the most exciting contests that has ever been played on a Hawaiian field. Both teams are in excellent condition and the same may be said of the horses which they are to ride.

The Maui team is most anxious to wrest the championship from the Oahu men and will make a very hard struggle. The Oahuans on the other hand are just as anxious to retain the hon-It is thought by a great many that the carrying off of the honors by the Maui men would have a tendency to increase interest in the game throughout the Islands. This, however, will not stand in the way of the local players for an instant. They are out to win and do It they will if it be pos-

Maul has a very strong team and will play a great deal better against the Oahuans than they did against the Kauai boys but it seems to be conceded on all hands that the Maul men can hardly be expected to win from the Oahu men who, when it comes to a general sizing up, are somewhat the superiors of the Mauites. However, the orses of the Maui players are better than those of the local players and this may have a great deal to do with the final outcome of the game. At all events, if the local players do win, they will know at the end of the game that they have been up against players of no mean calibre

The teams will line up as follows: Blue and White. Canary and Black. Judd
